

USE ENGLISH, WOOD TELLS PHILIPPINES
Makes Inaugural Address at Manila; Also Wants Christianity Advanced.
SEES HOPE OF PROGRESS
Though Oriental Nation, He Believes No Step Backward Likely.

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 15.—Leonard Wood became Governor-General of the Philippines to-day. He was sworn in immediately on his arrival from Japan and took up the duties of his new office.

Honesty, morality, economy, efficiency, progress and government of the people by their representatives to the extent provided in the Jones bill were the keynotes of Governor-General Wood's inaugural address.

"It is my purpose," he said, "so far as it lies in my power, to conduct the Government that it will be characterized by economy, efficiency and true progress; government of the people by their representatives to the extent provided in the Jones bill; government characterized by honesty and morality and appreciation of the fact that public office is public trust; that fitness is an absolute requirement for appointment to office.

"There must be no turning back, but steady progress on sound lines. The people of the Philippines have made wonderful progress during the last twenty-three years. I doubt if any people under the friendly guidance of another have made a greater advance in the same period.

"This has not been accomplished by the Philippines alone, but with the absolutely unselfish aid of the United States, acting through thousands of loyal and unselfish Americans, who have worked with an eye to the best interests of these islands.

"In considering the progress made we must not forget the work of Spain through the centuries spent in implanting the Christian faith, European forms of administration and foundations of law, which, although covered in places, have greatly facilitated the rapid up-building of representative Government among a Christian, self-respecting people, free from caste distinctions, and imbued with Occidental rather than Oriental ideas of government and of ideals.

"Although Oriental in blood and birth, the people of the Philippines are closely allied in religion, in ideas of government, in methods of administration and in law to the great Christian nations of the West, and especially with Americans as to form of government, civil and religious liberty and liberal institutions.

"As a people you were born and educated as Christians. There must be no turning backward in the Christian faith. In this connection it is well to remember that the first sign of decadence of a people is disregard of religion.

"That the people be well grounded in their faith is essential to real stability and progress.

"Your enthusiasm and thirst for education and your accomplishments in building up a sound system of public education is beyond praise. We must keep it up. Indeed, we must extend and improve it.

"The Government must encourage, not discourage private enterprise. As a general policy I believe that the Government should keep out of business.

"We must push forward our public works, especially roads and irrigation. We must give far more attention to public health. Too many precious lives are lost each year that could be saved.

"Almost one-third of all children born in the Philippines die in the first year of their lives, a frightful indictment of our sanitary and health conditions. We must provide remedies for the cure of leprosy, for a large proportion of them can be cured.

"We must do all we can to build up a fuller appreciation of the dignity of labor and the obligations of citizenship so that we may increase our agricultural development, expand our natural resources and so organize and conduct our Government that funds adequate for the needs of progress and development may be available. We must live within our income.

"Above all we must work together to the common end of welfare and happiness of the people of the Philippines. We must hold on to sound principles and policies. This is not the time for rash experiment. We must keep our feet on the ground and remember that our road lies ahead of us, not behind.

"My purpose is to do the best I can to reestablish the credit of the Philippines, to build up their commerce, increase the prosperity of the people and make the Government a model of efficiency. This I cannot do without the cooperation and support of Filipinos, Americans and other residents of the islands. With your cooperation the work will be easy, for the spirit of the people is excellent and the natural resources enormous.

"We must do all we can to build up and instruct public opinion, for without it true representative government cannot endure. In this the press is charged with a great responsibility. We must do everything possible to push forward the study of the English language and make English the language of the people of the Philippines. Nothing will do more to strengthen the spirit of solidarity and aid in developing an instructed, sound public opinion than a common language.

"Establishment of sound, stable representative government in the Philippines must not fail for the effect of efforts which were made here in the Orient to establish such a government extends far beyond the limits of the Philippines. Indeed, it reaches out to every people who are dreaming of liberal institutions and of government by the people.

"It shall not fail, because the United States has put its hands to the plough and will not turn back.

"In the great work before us I bespeak your cooperation and assistance. Working together, we cannot fail."

Women's Chiffon Velvet FROCKS

—made of velvet that sells at 7.50 to 10.00 a yard

Special 49.50

Well-dressed women will approve every detail of these effective frocks which follow, in their original designing, the Paris fondness for the uneven skirt line, the Lanvin bouffancy, and the bell or Chinois sleeve.

A frock of black velvet, trimmed with jet nail-heads, is built on straight, smart lines, and shows a scalloped skirt edged with jet loops, and a jetted girdle. Very lovely is another frock of a little more conservative fashioning, with pointed flying panels at the sides, and the new three-quarter bell sleeves, which has its low waist line defined by a rosette and streamers of cire ribbon.
